

INAUGURATION ECHOES

THE FINANCES OF THE CELEBRATED

Total Receipts of $83,775 Met by Expenditures in Excess of $10,000—Satisfactory Accomplishment of a Difficult and Delicate Task—Paying for Suppers that were

Last night it may be said closed the season of the city's social and entertainment in connection with the inauguration ceremonies, which have been complete in every respect and passed without a hitch or interruption to the splendid effect. In compliance with the public demand the new penitentiary building was thrown open all day yesterday, three promenade concerts being given, and a steady stream of visitors poured into the hall room all day long. As it had been decided that this should be the last day the executive committee of the different asylums of charity have for enjoyment, extended invitation to the persons in charge of these institutions to bring them to the city. The invitation was accepted, and during the afternoon of the 10th of last week the different asylums of charity folk could be seen filing through the entrances. The manner in which they enjoyed the pretty sight was an evidence of the success of the committee who had been solicited to bring them. There should be a chance to see the richly dressed room. At night

THE LAST PROMENADE CONCERT was given at the Marine band, and the attendance was a goodly one. It was estimated at fully 7,000 persons. The orchestra was large, and many seemed to depart even after the concert was over. The building and hall has been a perfect success, and the executive committee are proud of the result. The promenade of the night at the hall has not yet been completed, and it is pretty safe to say that the revenue from the source will be over $250,000. The promoters have made a profit when the price was 50 cents ahead, and will be about $3,000, and from last night's concert will be about $10,000.

for the ball room of $40,309. The receipts for privileges was for the state $9,970, and the official programme which increases the amount to $11,970. The contributions were a little over $22,000, which makes

A GRAND TOTAL OF $63,775.

Out of which the committee are to liquidate expenses. This it will do and leave a balance, but whether sufficient to a large refunding to every subscriber the amount of his contribution remains to be seen.

The increase was occasioned first by being compelled to substitute the board of the canvases, and then the cost of the canvases, and then the cost of the expense, not before taken into consideration, kept presenting themselves until instead of the aggregate cost being about $35,000, it was seen that it would go beyond $40,000. The expense of the exchange of roof alone will go a thing above $7,000, that lumber being more than $8,000 to which must be added the cost of $50,000 for their portion of the work. Siemen Light Company $1,300, the number over $1,000, and about $1,600 will be required to make up the guarantee. 4,000 suppers as only little more than that number went to the tables. The cost of the fireworks was $3,500, the stum lights and cluster lights will another $1,000, the printing of ballots, invitations, and badges near $1,000. The fitting up of hat boxes, platform number of small items when aggregated will make the total outlay IN EXCESS OF $40,000.

It matters not about the expense, committees know that they have sufficient with which to cancel all indebtedness and they have the proud satisfaction of knowing that the undertaking tion was brought to success that gained for them nothing but praise and commendation both from their fellow citizens and the host of visitors from ab-

A young man named Benjamin Manning, aged 20 years, a son of Mr. I. Manning, of the District engineers' siding at 701 East Capitol street, passing up Pennsylvania avenue, Fourth-and-a-half street on inauguration night, was knocked down by a patrolman, and when picked up was unconscious. He was carried into Shillington's hospital and afterward conveyed to the Emergency Hospital by the police patrol wagon, where an examination of his injuries was made, and found to be a concussion of the brain. He was then taken to his home, where his injuries resulted yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The authorities are making inquiry as to whether it was criminal carelessness.

The parents of the young man were glad if any persons who witnessed the accident would send their names and address to police headquarters.

Death of Jenkin Thomas.

In the death of Mr. Jenkin Thomas, which occurred yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his residence, No. 3028 N. West Washington, the District suffered the loss of one of its eldest and most well-known citizens. Mr. Thomas was reared quite well and hearty. He was native of Wales, and came to this country quite young, residing first at Alexandria and removing afterward to Georgetown, where he engaged in the saddlery business. He was a member of the board of aldermen, and at the time of his death held the position of president of the East Inhabitants' Association, to which he succeeded Dr. Blake on July 4, 1884. He leaves a son and a daughter, the latter a widow lady, having resided with him

Photographing the Crooks.
Yesterday morning the patrol carried four loads of suspected crooks from the sixth precinct station to Britt Woods' photograph gallery, 925 Pennsylvania avenue. They were in charge of the detectives. No difficulty was met with in getting the pictures.

times some of them would make a bang down their heads, but by a management the photographer succeeded in getting good photographs of. Among the gang were several noted pockets, bunco men, car workers, lars, and one well-known bank butler. They were detained at police headquarters until later in the day when they were sent out of the city. Officers accompanied them to the depot and saw they departed.

genuine merit. This the Violet King (the Tabacco possesses. An excellent subject for adulterated trashy articles put up puffed in elaborate style. Properly contains no gritty particles, compact stock. Knowing how pure and desirable the proprietors are confident of its future
on the alert against counterfeiters. L.
Bro., agents.